

NOTE! Data for individual strands shown below is digitized directly from slip distribution curve for that strand provided in original source. These values are often cumulative with subparallel strands. To obtain individual slip curves, it is usually necessary to difference the values in respective tables. For example, to obtain the slip on the Landers strand, it is necessary to difference the slip measures on the Landers strand with those on the subparallel Johnson Valley.

